

GETTING ROAD SENATE GIVES REDOUBT FOR MEXICAN REFUGEES

New Mexico Highway Commission Repairing Between El Paso and Albuquerque.

ALBUQUERQUE END IS ALREADY FIXED

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 15.—One of the features of the big automobile reliability run, which will be a great drawing card at the state fair next month, is the general improvement on the roads between this city and El Paso, over which the run will be made. On last Thursday more than 1000 men turned out, and, aided by 170 teams and 77 automobiles to haul laborers around, placed the 12 miles of road between this city and the Indian pueblo of Isleta in splendid condition. Hills were leveled, fills were made and chukoles and ruts filled or graded out. The road for the entire distance is now such that cars can go over it without difficulty. The county of Bernalillo will send its road-building equipment over the road within the next two weeks, topping it off with gravel and completing the work scheduled Thursday by the army of volunteer workers.

Prior to this work, the stretch between here and Isleta was one of the worst along the entire road. With this work and a rain or two to pack and settle the earth piled on in different places, it will be one of the best sections on the whole run.

Access Approaches Repaired.
A great many approaches to aqueducts, which on this section are high above the road level, were built. This will enable cars to run over the ditches without changing gears except in a very few instances. The long approaches take the place of sudden rises, which have been the rule along this stretch for generations.

Los Lunas, county seat of Valencia county, has promised that good work done between Albuquerque and Isleta shall be continued between Los Lunas and the Indian pueblo and Belen will also do its share. This will put the road in excellent condition as far south as Socorro and will obviate a great deal of difficulty formerly experienced by cars in traveling this section.

Highway Commission at Work.
Mayor D. K. B. Sellers states that the state highway commission this morning dispatched teams from Engle, Carthage and Albuquerque properly equipped for the purpose of examining all the high centers between El Paso and this point on the road recently logged by him for the reliability run from El Paso to Albuquerque.

The reliability run has attracted much attention here and will be a great feature in bringing the state highway work done between Albuquerque and Isleta to the El Paso Herald's pilot car will make the run in a few days, traversing the roads logged by mayor D. K. B. Sellers a few weeks ago.

CARAVAN TRIAL DATE AND PLACE NOT SETTLED

No time nor place has been set by the Mexican federal authorities for the trial of Capt. Santa Ana Caraveo, charged with the shooting of the fair. Edward Hayes and J. H. Thomas, Americans, at Madera, Chih., on Aug. 15. He will be tried either in Juarez or Chihuahua.

A request has been made by the American state department through consul Edwards for notification of the trial so that American witnesses to the shooting may be produced.

DYNAMITE EXPLODED IN MORENCI CHURCH AGAIN

MORENCI, Ariz., Sept. 15.—The third attempt to blow up the Morenci Catholic church was made this morning, when at an early hour the people of Morenci were awakened by the explosion of a heavy charge of dynamite which had been placed under the church.

The force of the explosion tore up fully half of the floor and completely destroyed the altar.

A former priest of the church is now in prison at Clifton on the charge of having set off the first charge of dynamite about two months ago. He was arrested in El Paso and brought here.

"Bought and Paid For", A Story of Great Human Interest

Beginning today, The El Paso Herald will publish in serial form, the great story, "Bought and Paid For," by George Broadhurst. This play was one of the great hits of New York and the rights to publish it as a story have been vigorously contended for by the press.

The Herald has secured the rights for El Paso and today begins publication of the first installment. Readers of the editorial and magazine page; once you start it, you cannot feel satisfied until you have finished it.

The serial will run daily in the columns of The Herald for ten days. The tenth installment finishes the gripping story.

The Greater Sunday Herald

THE first issue of The Greater Sunday Herald—appearing next Sunday morning, Sept. 21—will be the Fall Fashion edition, the finest in the Southwest. The Herald will thus auspiciously inaugurate its "seven papers a week" program with a paper that will be worthy of the efforts of the leading newspaper between Dallas and Los Angeles.

The Fashion edition will be the greatest, best and most profusely illustrated Fashion Edition ever produced in the Southwest.

What It Will Embrace

Sixteen handsomely illustrated pages of descriptive matter and advertising display from the Root Newspaper Association, publishers of "The Dry Goods Economist," will be the feature of this Fall Fashion number. Twenty handsomely illustrated pages, editorial and advertising display from the Meyer-Booth Co. will also be included in the Fall Fashion number.

Local Merchants Interested

Interviews will be printed from all local merchants, their managers and buyers of what the Fall and Winter styles will be. For authentic Fall and Winter style designs it will have no equal.

Extra Circulation

Every Home in El Paso and El Paso Territory Will Be Supplied.

BRISTOW CRITICISES ACTION OF WILSON IN ORDERING AMERICANS FROM MEXICO.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15.—Without reference to a committee, the senate today unanimously agreed to the house joint resolution appropriating $100,000 immediately for the relief and transportation of American citizens out of Mexico.

CURRENCY BILL UP FOR AMENDMENTS

Senator Bristow, of Kansas, did not grant his consent to the passage of the resolution until he had criticized the administration's policy.

"I have had letters from several friends in Mexico and talked with others who have left Mexico since the president issued his warning for Americans to get out of Mexico," said senator Bristow, "and they all say that the warning has been unfortunate. They tell me that it has made the lot of Americans in Mexico very much harder than it was before."

Testimony closed in the West Virginia strike investigation.

Perfecting Currency Bill.
The banking committee, however, brought in an amendment to remedy a defect pointed out by representative Scott, Republican, of Iowa. It was to limit the issuing power of the regional banks to their transactions with the government.

Tariff Amendments.
Democrats of the tariff conference at work at the adjustment of differences between the two houses, spent much of the day's session on amendment to the tariff schedule, with particular reference to the duties on burlaps.

Denies Mulhall's Charge.
Representative Ralph D. Cole, of the Eighth Ohio district, told the house today that the testimony of Martin Mulhall's testimony and correspondence regarding his conduct as a member of the house were so full of half truths and false statements that he would confine his own testimony to the fact that he denied flatly that Mulhall helped him get his nomination to congress.

He never received a contribution from the National Association of Manufacturers, declared Cole. Mulhall once came to my office and started to tell me that I had to stay my fight on speaker Cannon. He never got any further than that.

Ordered Mulhall Out.
"I ordered Mulhall out of the room and told him if he ever returned, I'd throw him out of the window. From that day to this I've never seen Mulhall. That is the way I've served the National Association of Manufacturers. It was the first time and the last time I ever talked with anyone from that association about legislation."

Cole said at the time he ordered Mulhall out of his office, C. R. Painter, of Bowling Green, Ohio, a friend, was there and heard it all. He produced an affidavit from Painter corroborating his own testimony.

Federal Judge's Order.
Federal judge Aldrich's rescript giving writs of habeas corpus to Thaw says in part:

"The petition of Harry K. Thaw for a writ of habeas corpus under United States authority, invested with the amendment to the constitution of the United States, which, among other things, declares that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law, is hereby granted."

While reserving to federal authority the exercise of all such ultimate power and the discharge of all such duty as the constitution and laws of the United States contemplate in relation to federal and state interpretations, state authorities, respectively, results primarily, if not altogether, from federal law, it is not intended that the exercise of such power shall interfere at all, for the present at least, with such of the authorities of the state as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of the constitution and laws of the United States.

Mother Appeals to Governor.
Thaw gave out a telegram, which his mother, Mrs. Mary Copeley Thaw, sent from Montreal to governor Peck. He added that she would not come to New Hampshire at present in view of the uncertain status of affairs. This is her telegram:

"To his Excellency, governor Peck: 'I address your excellency in the interests of my son, Harry K. Thaw, who after being denied of the liberty the average acquitted man would receive after a verdict of 'not guilty' upon the grounds of the defendant's insanity at the time of the crime charged in the indictment, has for five and a half years suffered through malice, for the freedom denied through malice.'"

"May I beg that your excellency will secure to him, in whatever way proper, a fair and impartial hearing during the impending proceedings."

"Yours very sincerely,
"Mary C. Thaw."

Canadians Return Home.
Most of the Canadians who followed Thaw across the border and in their sympathetic enthusiasm spoke openly of their desire to burst shell and break for liberty, have left Colebrook, and the talk of kidnapping, so rampant for a few days, has died down considerably.

Fight Conspiracy Charge.
Attorney Grossman, of the Thaw counsel, in charges of the plans for assisting extradition, issued a statement outlining in a general way what will be the gist of his argument before the governor.

"No man in the world," he said, "occupies a more anomalous position today than Harry Thaw."

"They are endeavoring to extradite under cover of a charge of crime a man who the most of the people of this state charge Thaw with the crime of conspiring to escape from an insane asylum and at the same time alleging that he was properly confined in that asylum. If he were properly confined in the asylum he could not be guilty of conspiracy or of any other crime."

"This whole conspiracy charge and all the extradition proceedings are merely a subterfuge in the attempt to

MATEAWAN FUGITIVE WILL HAVE HEARING AT LITTLE, N. H., TUESDAY.

PRISONER IS DENIED A VISIT TO CHURCH

COLEBROOK N. H., Sept. 15.

—Harry Kendall Thaw waited anxiously today the arrival of United States marshal E. P. Nute, bearing notice to sheriff Drew of Coos county that the fugitive must be produced on a writ of habeas corpus before judge Aldrich in the United States district court at Littleton tomorrow morning. Thaw then will be under the protection of the United States, pending disposition of the writ, and this guarantee in the face of so many kidnapping rumors was a source of relief to him.

Nute did not arrive on the morning train, and Thaw's custodian, sheriff Holman Drew, said he did not expect him until this afternoon. "We probably will not take Thaw to Littleton until tomorrow morning," he said.

William Travers Jerome, New York's special deputy in the litigation, planned to accompany Thaw to Littleton. He did Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general, and sheriff Hornbeck, of Dutchess county.

Denied Visit to Church.
Thaw spent a quiet Sunday, his fifth away from Matteawan. He did not even go out for a walk. He expressed a desire to attend the Methodist church, but the sheriff said that he (the sheriff) had not been looking Thaw much out of late and feared if he went it might establish a precedent under which his wife would compel him to attend regularly hereafter.

He made this explanation with a smile and said later that his real reason for not taking Thaw out was that Colebrook had been upset enough already over the fugitive and he thought it best to keep him in.

Crowds in Thaw's Hotel.
As it was the corridors of the Monadnock house, where Thaw is held, were crowded with country folk through the day. They had driven or motored in from their homes in the hope of getting a good look at Thaw, who was one of those who were willing to pay for a meal and see Thaw at a table had their curiosity satisfied.

The statement of Moses S. Grossman of the Thaw counsel that the federal writ was obtained not because Thaw's liberty was sought now, but as an emergency measure to checkmate New York state's extradition of Thaw, failed to honor the regulation warrant for Thaw without a full hearing, has developed into an open controversy between the factions.

Branch of Faith, Says Jerome.
Jerome characterized the movement as a brazenly conceived and executed number of affidavits from the procurer men setting forth what Grossman had obtained these for use in public opinion to sustain his contention that Grossman and his associates had "trifled" with the federal courts and should be liable for contempt.

Federal Judge's Order.
Federal judge Aldrich's rescript giving writs of habeas corpus to Thaw says in part:

"The petition of Harry K. Thaw for a writ of habeas corpus under United States authority, invested with the amendment to the constitution of the United States, which, among other things, declares that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law, is hereby granted."

While reserving to federal authority the exercise of all such ultimate power and the discharge of all such duty as the constitution and laws of the United States contemplate in relation to federal and state interpretations, state authorities, respectively, results primarily, if not altogether, from federal law, it is not intended that the exercise of such power shall interfere at all, for the present at least, with such of the authorities of the state as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of the constitution and laws of the United States.

Personnel of Jury.
The jury which tried the two officers was composed of the following: S. W. Brown, foreman; C. H. Kelle, Monte Rimmer, Pat O'Donnell, F. E. Holmes, R. S. Murray, H. L. Stevens, R. A. Whitlock, E. H. Griffith, V. E. Roberts, J. U. Northman and A. L. Michelson.

WOUNDED AMERICAN APPEALS TO CONSUL

James A. Graham, American, who was shot through the calves of both legs during an engagement near Pearson three months ago, appealed to American consul Thomas D. Edwards for assistance Monday morning, but did not get it.

Graham, who used to be a switchman in Chicago and Milwaukee, has a wife and two children at 224 Grand avenue, Milwaukee, where he left them 10 months ago to come west for his health. He lost his left hand while working as a switchman for the Wisconsin Central railroad in Chicago.

On July 3, while coming away from Pearson, where he had been employed as a messenger, he accidentally got into an engagement between federal and rebel agents. He shot and killed one of the rebel agents and tore through the calves of both his legs. His companions were not hurt. Tearing his shirt, he bandaged the wounds and continued on over the Dos Cabezas trail to Bowie, Ariz., from where he went to Globe and entered the county hospital.

He left the hospital in Globe last Friday, and was given transportation to Bowie, and from there came to El Paso.

URRUTIA IS UNDER CHARGES OF CALERO

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Sept. 15.—Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, Mexican minister of the interior, has left the cabinet. His resignation was accepted at midnight by provisional president Huerta. Minister David de la Fuente's resignation was accepted last evening.

Two More Cabinet Officers Leave Huerta—One Is Violently Anti-Foreign.

Dr. Urrutia is under charges preferred by senator Manuel Calero, former Mexican ambassador at Washington, for arresting him in defiance of his exemption as senator.

Dr. Urrutia gave as the reason for his resignation of the ministry of the interior that that post required qualities which he did not possess. He is a surgeon and had never had experience in politics.

His anti-foreign sentiments have not been disguised during his term of office. Dr. Urrutia was the author of the so-called Huerta "ultimatum" to the United States, which was promptly repudiated by Federico Gamboa, the foreign minister.

Are Exonerated in Court.

JUDGE ORDERS AN ACQUITTAL VERDICT

F. JONAH, customs officer, and Tom Heifrin, immigration inspector, who on the afternoon of Sept. 6, in self defence killed Lieut.
F. Acosta, said to be an officer of Salazar's command, were acquitted by a jury in the 34th district court Monday morning.

After the testimony of officer Jonah, judge Jackson instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, which the jury did without leaving the jury box. Neither of the officers were able to identify the dead lieutenant. They testified that the name "F. Acosta" was on the bridge of the assassin, which also lost its life in the assault.

Testimony Does Not Vary.
Heifrin testified that on the afternoon the killing occurred he went to the Stanton street bridge at 3 o'clock. At 3:30 o'clock, while sitting in the guard house with Mr. Jonah and George Schick, he said that they heard two rifle shots.

His testimony and that of Jonah was in substance the same as the voluntary statement that he made during the examining trial, where justice of the peace, B. McClintock.

SOLDIERS TO BE TAUGHT TRADES

Enlistments to Be Made
Shorter and a Reserve Corps Established.

WILL LEARN TO SAW BOARDS AND SHOOT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15.—Uncle Sam's soldiers of the future will not only be taught how to shoot and ride, but how to saw a board, lay bricks, fix sewer pipes and plumbing, and other things—in other words, they will be made mechanics as well as fighting men.

To teach the men useful trades and military knowledge at the same time is the plan of secretary of war Garrison. He would make the enlistments shorter and discharge a man into the reserves as soon as they became proficient, if they wished.

"I don't believe the army was ever in better condition," said secretary Garrison, when he returned to his desk at the war department today, after an absence of two months visiting all the important military posts outside of New England and some of the stations in the middle states.

"If we are going to attract the men and want to raise the efficiency of the army, we must have a shorter term of enlistment," he continued. "I am in favor of a three-year term with the privilege of discharge into the reserve as soon as an enlisted man has shown his efficiency."

The shortest period with the colors would depend entirely on the individual. I am in favor of discharging men as soon as they earn discharge and as a reward for their hard work."

Secretary Garrison said he had not yet decided how long a man should serve in the reserves.

"I like the army more attractive to the best class of men," said he. "I favor vocational training for the army, so that it is not only a military training and discipline which a man acquires through service, he would have with some trade, when he goes out as a civil life. Whenever I went I found universal approval of this plan."

The secretary declined to discuss the plan in the concentration of training in a few strategic centers, rather than have it distributed throughout 157 posts.

Young Woman Chases Purse Snatcher and Wins in the Race

The young woman who late Saturday afternoon, by sheer nerve, forced the Mexican who snatched her purse to return it, was sought by the detectives. They want her to identify a Mexican arrested Sunday, who the detectives say admits that he was the one who snatched her purse.

At the time of the purse snatching incident, the young woman was on her way home. She reached the corner of San Antonio and Ochus streets when a Mexican snatched her purse and started in pursuit of the fleeing Mexican. The young woman qualified as a Marathon runner, for she got so close to the Mexican, that he in order to avoid being overtaken, hurled the purse back in her face. This ended the chase.

Pickpockets and purse snatchers were busy in the downtown stores Saturday night. Mrs. A. Gordon, of Mesilla Park, N. M., in a store on Mesa avenue Saturday night, had her purse opened and $14 extracted from it. The purse was never removed from her arm, on which it hung suspended. The detectives said that it was opened three times before the thief succeeded in getting the money out of it.

Benito Saldaña, Ernest Perez, and Celso Castro, arrested by the detectives, are being held in connection with the purse snatching cases.

Other officers Tom York and Dan Thompson arrested Augustin Estavilla, shortly after Mrs. Rosa Fenner, 680 Myrtle city, Mo., was taken from Santa Fe train here Sunday afternoon by officers because she was traveling on a discharged soldier's ticket. The young woman did not deny her sex, admitting that she had donned a soldier's uniform, cut off her hair and started home on the soldier's ticket because she was ill and without funds, having only recently been discharged from a hospital at San Francisco.

She had been given the ticket, she said, by the soldier, who had sympathized with her.

The girl's plight appealed to several charitable women of this city, who supplied her with clothing and bought her a ticket to Kansas City. She returned her journey to Kansas City last night.

TRAINLOAD OF BULLION IS REPORTED COMING OUT

It is reported that a train of bullion from American mines in Chihuahua has left Chihuahua, but no advices have been received by the railroad authorities in Juarez, as to when it will arrive in that city.

"This Is My Birthday Anniversary"

Boys and girls who celebrated their birthday anniversary in El Paso today are numerous. Those in the list and their ages follow:

Dorise Huethman, 12.
Marguerite Prothro, 14.
Willie Ballentine, 15.
Wilhelmina McCollum, 11.

Tomorrow will be the birthday anniversary of a number of other El Paso boys and girls. Watch for the list, children. It may contain the names of your closest friends.

If anybody was overlooked today, a telephone message to The Herald would get the name in tomorrow.

GIRL IS BLOOD SAC RIFICE; PRIEST CONFESSES KILLING

STATEMENT THAT PATRON SAINT DIRECTED
DEED IS ATTRIBUTED TO CLERGYMAN.

Rev. Hans Schmidt, of New York, Confesses Killing Anna Aumuller and Dismembering Her Body—The Church Hopes to Brand the Slayer as an Impos- ter—Arrest May Clear the Mystery of Anna Kellner's Murder at Louisville.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—In the hope of branding as an imposter and pseudo priest the Rev. Hans Schmidt, assistant rector of St. Joseph's Catholic church, the alleged self-confessed slayer of Anna Aumuller, victim of New York's river murder mystery, church authorities began today a sweeping investigation of Schmidt's record and his pretensions to ordination.

"We hope, of course, to be able to prove that this unspeakable monster was an imposter, and that he had been using forged papers," declared monsignor Lavelle, vicar general of the arch diocese of New York. "That is something which we are trying to clear up now. He came to this diocese with credentials which were apparently in every way authentic and genuine, but we know practically nothing of him. His crime is too horrible to conceive. We can only hope that he may prove to have been a pseudo priest."

Uses Coat as a Pillow.
In his cell in the Tombs, with his coat as a pillow, Schmidt slept soundly through the night and awoke this morning to partake of a hearty breakfast. He had little to add to his alleged confession in which he said he had told the police that he killed his victim as she lay in bed, cut up her body in the bath tub of the apartment where he had established her, wrapped it in five bundles and dropped the bundles in the Hudson river.

A Human Sacrifice.
To the Rev. T. J. Evers, the Tombs chaplain, Schmidt was said to have made the following declaration: "I was directed to kill her by St. Elizabeth, who is my patron, as a sacrifice to be consummated as was the sacrifice of Abraham in blood."

"I killed her because I loved her," Schmidt told the police. He had taken the mattress on which she lay when he delivered the death blow, under cover of darkness to a vacant lot nearby and burned it.

In the apartment among other things the police found a marriage license bearing the name of the priest and the woman, which was issued last February.

Pillow Leads to Capture.
A gayly colored pillow of unusual pattern led to Schmidt's apprehension. The pillow, stained with blood, and soiled with the filth of the river, was wrapped around a portion of the torso. The detectives traced the pillow to its dealer and the dealer traced it to Schmidt. Then police, trailing Schmidt and the girl, knew all about the time of their hours before they arrested him.

Schmidt was arrested by Inspector Faurot in charge of the detective bureau. The priest was dressed in full clerical garb when the detective entered his rooms in the parish house of his church in West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. The inspector had produced a photograph of Miss Aumuller and asked if he knew the girl.

Priest Tries to Cut Throat.
The priest, according to his story, was born in Anschaffenberg, Germany, in 1861. He attended college and at

AMMUNITION STOLEN FROM CUSTOM HOUSE

WHEN the check of the ammunition stored in the federal building was made Saturday afternoon before it was removed to Fort Bliss, it was found that 2400 rounds of ammunition had been stolen from one of the trunks which was being held by the federal authorities as evidence against ammunition smugglers. It was stored in the toilet room of the federal building.
